

AWARDS NOMINATION FORM

AMPP Craftmanship Award

Award Description:

This award recognizes individuals who exhibit excellence and professionalism in their craft through natural talent, passion, dedication, discipline, and determination to deliver a superior product. No level of formal education is required for a candidate for this award. This award includes all corrosion technologies, for example: coating applicators, abrasive blasters, cathodic protection survey and/or installations, corrosion monitoring and control, destructive testing inspectors, etc. The candidate is recognized for their superior craftsman traits of quality of work, creativity, dealing with complexity of challenges, safety, considering the site conditions, and delivering the final product. Team leaders are also eligible for this award, so long as they demonstrate the traits listed above for individuals.
