

AWARDS NOMINATION FORM

Project Awards - Excellence in Management of a Complex Materials Protection Project

Project Award in honor of George Campbell

Award Description:

The AMPP Project of the Year Award category recognizes superior performance, management approaches, innovation, or other achievements in the commission of materials protection technologies for new construction, maintenance projects, or remediation/rehab of existing assets or buildings, and public service impact through community service projects. Nominations are accepted for projects finalized in the previous calendar year.

This award recognizes superior management of a complex materials protection project involving one or multiple materials protection solutions such as cathodic protection, protective coatings, materials selection, or design. Honoring an overall project rather than an individual, this award recognizes the contributions of a management team.
